

BUSINESS CONTINUITY READINESS SCORE CARD

Together we have all learned many things over the past several months as we have walked through initial response to this Coronavirus (COVID-19) Pandemic event. Perhaps the greatest is again learning the old story that we must plan, plan, plan now – and don't wait until such an event is upon us.

That is exactly the purpose of Converge's Business Continuity Readiness Score Card – to determine what gaps exist in your Continuity strategy and what remains to be done now to ensure a successful recovery. This scorecard service focuses on all planning Business Continuity, including Pandemic Response Preparation, Crisis Management Preparation, Mass Communications capability, and overall Continuity Program Management.

We designed the Business Continuity Readiness Score Card service in response to some of our clients' executives asking them in regard to the COVID-19, "How did we do?" or "Had we prepared well enough?". Behind that question is another, "How prepared are we now?" We broadened those questions to consider all elements of response preparation, because we want our clients ready with an answer when those questions are asked.
